

The County Club, Guildford

The County Club is a meeting and dining venue in the heart of Guildford.

The amenities on tap are one of the town's best kept secrets.

A people place

The County Club is a private members club in central Guildford with a long history. The Club has always been actively involved in the local community and is known for extending a helping hand to neighbouring organisations. The members, Club management and staff create a warm, caring environment in which to meet, converse and dine.

Benefits of membership

There are many benefits of membership, including networking and an excellent central location to meet friends. As a member you are entitled to discounted bar and wine charges and very reasonably priced menus.

The Club offers settings and food to meet all tastes and occasions

The County Club provides a selection of dining settings, including restaurant, private dining rooms and an informal bar area that overlooks Guildford High Street. Whatever the setting, diners can relax and enjoy friendly, attentive service from Club staff.

Bistro-style fayre, à la carte dishes and all day refreshments are all freshly available. The Club's menus include popular favourites from sandwiches, grills and curries to hearty roasts and fish of the day. Seasonal additions are added to tempt your palette and a range starters and desserts are available to top and tail the ideal meal.

Take advantage of private dining

It has been said that good company makes a good meal. The essence of The County Club is warmth and relaxation, which only enhances the flavours of our food. Members, Guildford businesses and organisations, locals and families all make the most of the Club's private dining facilities.

Flexible meeting rooms

The Club's meeting rooms accommodate small groups and delegate numbers up to 70. Meeting rooms are air conditioned and are well resourced. They are available for hire at highly competitive rates.

Events at The County Club

Throughout the year we celebrate social and cultural events. These events are for members and their guests and are very popular.

Make the most of affiliated clubs

Sloane Club, London

Enjoy dining and accommodation privileges at the Sloane Club at Lower Sloane Street, Chelsea, London.

The Athenaeum, Liverpool

Club members can use the extensive facilities of the Athanaeum, Liverpool

The Wanderers Club, South Africa

The Wanderers Club, in Johannesburg, prides itself on its ability to deliver professionally managed and well run events.

The County Club has a long history

The original County Club building was built in 1800 and The County Club was formed in 1882 with 120 members. Charles Dodgson's nephew was a member (1905) which influences the number of Lewis Carroll references around the Club. Today the Club continues the function for which it was founded: a social club where professionals of all shades and political opinion can meet.

Where to find us...

The County Club, 158 High Street, Guildford, Surrey GU1 3HJ

www.thecountyclub.co.uk | E: info@thecountyclub.co.uk | T: 01483 575 370

Follow us on Twitter

Do you follow us on twitter @thecountyclub?